Why is Bucksmore Home Tuition right for me?

> A leading provider of home tuition

Bucksmore Home Tuition (formerly Bucksmore Homelinguia) has welcomed students for over 20 years. We are accredited by the British Council as a recognised home tuition and online courses provider. We are also a member of EnglishUK.

> Teachers with approved qualifications

We ask that our teachers have an English teaching qualification such as the University of Cambridge (CELTA) or Trinity College (TESOL) qualification. For school teachers, we request a postgraduate teaching qualification – either a PGCE in the UK or PGDE in Ireland.

> Immersive environment

Students can expect to make faster progress on a Bucksmore Home Tuition one-to-one course than in a traditional school environment.

By living in the home of their teacher, students can immerse themselves in the language outside of lesson times, so they can practice English studied in class in a real-life context.

> Personalised course to suit you

A unique and tailored course for each and every student. All aspects of the course - from lessons and skills, to leisure time and even cultural visits - can be customised according to your needs and learning goals.

> Programmes available every week of the year

Home Tuition courses run 52 weeks of the year. Please note the availability of specific teachers does depend on the time of year.

> Safe and protected: Covid secure

Student and teacher welfare is our number one priority. Due to the private nature of the courses, Home Tuition is a great option for continuing learning and travelling as things improve. We have introduced a variety of measures to help minimise the risks of COVID-19 and adapt these in line with the latest advice. For details, email us at info@bucksmore.com.
